Art Unit: 1632

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 21-36, drawn to a composition comprising a population of human cells, such as human hematopoietic progenitor or stem cells, wherein at least a portion of the cells comprises a nucleic acid of interest or at least a portion of the cells are transduced with a viral vector.

Group II, claim(s) 37-51, drawn to a method of treating a subject comprises administering to the subject a composition comprising a population of human cells enriched in human cells that can express human CD34, wherein at least a portion of the cells comprises a nucleic acid of interest.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature shared by groups I-II is the composition comprising a population of human cells, such as human hematopoietic progenitor or stem cells, wherein at least a portion of the cells comprises a nucleic acid of interest. Jordan et al., 1997 (WO 97/28269) discloses transduced human CD34+ cells, such as human hematopoietic stem cells, comprising recombinant genetic material of interest, for example, replication deficient virus expressing a cytokine, wherein the transduced cells are capable of expressing the genetic material of interest, and a method of making transduced human CD34+ hematopoietic stem cells (e.g. p. 19). Therefore, no special technical feature has been contributed by the instant invention over the prior art. Thus, Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
